Message :We take note of NEMOs proposal not to amend the content of the current list of SDAC products that was last approved by ACER decision on 22 December 2020. NEMOs also stated that possible amendments needed before the implementation of the 15' MTU will be included in the next methodology consultation expected at latest in 2 years' time. We however stress the need of market participants to anticipate any evolution in the products, the visibility to the evolution of the SDAC products should be provided as soon as possible, latest by mid-2023. This is even more urgent given the fact that some states will transition to 15 minutes ISP sooner than 2025. Information on any change in the list of products to be traded on the SDAC, or concerning the limitations constraining their use (e.g. maximal number of block products of a given type, risk of paradoxical rejection...) should be known well before this date. We also find crucial to stress that the basic right to trade in the same granularity as the imbalance settlement period should be ensured under all circumstances. In this regard, we expect that at least SIDC will accommodate 15 minutes products mid-2024.
