

31st August 2022, updated version

To:

Stakeholders and respondents

Public consultation pursuant to Art. 12 of Commission Regulation (EU) 1222/2015 (hereinafter CACM Regulation) on Harmonized maximum and minimum clearing prices for single day-ahead coupling and for single intraday coupling

NEMOs published the above-mentioned consultation on the NEMO Committee website on 5th May 2022. The consultation period ended on 15th July 2022.

The consultation received twenty (20) responses from Stakeholders. NEMOs want to thank the Stakeholders for having taken the time to review the consultation and respond to it. There are several important issues highlighted in the responses, and NEMOs have found the input very useful. The list of respondents and their submissions are summarised in the enclosed document. The responses were reviewed by all NEMOs and questions will be answered during the workshop organized by NEMOs in September.

Considering the responses of Stakeholders, NEMOs' view and current market situation, NEMOs found that concerns and issues brought forward in the past few months support a need to amend the existing HMMCP methodology. Therefore, after careful consideration of all proposals, NEMOs will propose an amendment of HMMCP methodology.

NEMOs plan to submit the amended HMMCP methodology to ACER in September, for its approval.

The document with the summary of responses is available on the NEMO Committee website here. It will be sent together with the final proposal of the methodology to ACER to feed the Agency's decision process.